

Kitchen and Bath Designer

Len-Co Lumber is looking for full-time, or part-time, Kitchen and Bath Designer for our Williamsville location.

Customers come to Len-Co for quality building materials at great prices. Our Kitchen and Bath Designer guides customers' visions for a dream kitchen and bath, and refines these visions into competitively-priced product orders that can be delivered to the customer in an efficient manner.

The Kitchen and Bath Designer meets with walk-in customers, as well as those that have set an appointment, and utilizes vast product knowledge and design experience to "show and tell" with product displays, catalogs, and web links. Once selections have been made, the Kitchen and Bath Designer utilizes the 20/20 cabinet program to create floor plans and elevations. When it is time to purchase, the Kitchen and Bath Designer works with the Inside Sales team to finalize payment and order entry, and then contacts the correct supplier to order in the proper products. The Kitchen and Bath Designer is also responsible for maintenance and upkeep of the kitchen and bath displays, and may need to lift materials weighing up to 30lbs if necessary.

The Kitchen and Bath Designer is an excellent communicator and organized: great at listening, empathetic, enthusiastic, diligent with note-taking, and consistent with following through on their promises. Success is measured on the ability to maximize sales volume, order accuracy, and positive customer feedback.
